BANKING FOR DIGITAL GENERATION

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTION

What is Floaterium?

Floaterium is a revolutionary digital cryptobank with new technology adoption from ethereum smart contract and open platform. Our goal is to provide a convenient banking experience all over the world using the power of blockchain technology and our experience in contactless mobile payment technologies.

How does Floaterium make money?

Floaterium has a simple and sustainable transaction-based business model. We receive a profit from every merchant (not user) transaction.

How does Floaterium differ from other cryptobanks?

We focus on contactless payments, because we believe that in the future plastic cards will not be needed. You can use our payment app right after installation, without a need to wait 2 weeks for your plastic card to arrive.

We are focused on transactions. Our main goal is to create our own crypto-payment infrastructure based on blockchain technology that will significantly reduce the cost of transactions for merchants. We are confident we will achieve this task, because we have extensive experience in creating viable payment solutions.

We are focused not only on working with the existing crypto community, which now consists of just a few million people, but also with an audience that is still only curious about the crypto-world and is afraid to buy crypto-currencies. We created a system, which will motivate millions of new users to connect with crypto-payments.

How about fiat services? Do you plan to work with fiat? If so, where do you plan to get the license?

In the beginning we plan to operate fiat transactions using the infrastructure of Visa/MasterCard linked to our application virtual cards which are issued by licensed banks-partners. Regarding the development of our own payment infrastructure, in some countries this service should get permission easily.
